THE CENTRAL CATALOG

From rather modest beginnings in the early 1960's, a list of hand transcribed textbooks available for loan or reproduction by the thermoform process, the Catalog has grown to the book you are now holding.

This reference was in card file form until the first edition was printed and made available through a federal grant in 1969. The American Printing House for the Blind furnished this Catalog through its funds from 1975-1980. In 1980 this catalog became an at cost publication. You may purchase copies from the American Printing House for the Blind by placing an order. A limited number of catalogs are printed each year.

The listing of materials is primarily school textbooks that have been produced by volunteers and commercial companies.

The card file reference is updated daily and reference can be given for textbooks in process by telling us the title, author, publisher, copyright date, grade level and media needed.

To our knowledge this is the only reference of this type in the world.

Should defective braille be encountered in any book, please advise the IMRC. We will delete such titles from the catalog.

NOTICE NOTICE NOTICE

We have deleted via computer old copyright dated textbooks. These books remain on our card file listings.

If you need a book with a copyright date of 1970 or before, write or call us and we will provide you with information as to its location from our card file.

Please know that these early dates are seldom requested and this will make our publication less bulky.

PREFACE

The Instructional Materials Reference Center and the American Printing House for the Blind are pleased to present the Fourteenth Edition of the Central Catalog of volunteer produced braille, large type, and recorded textbooks. Again, as in the other editions, commercially produced large type textbooks and supplementary materials are included. We have also included regular press braille and large type books of APH. You are urged to share older editions of the Central Catalog with others, if you do not need to hold them.

Titles are arranged alphabetically. If a title is a part of a series or could be a subtitle or a several volume edition, it is suggested that you check both the series name and individual titles.

English articles (a, an, the) have been eliminated when they are the first word of the title. They DO appear in their proper sequence WITHIN the title and ARE considered in the alphabetizing.

Example: THE STORY OF AMERICA will be found in the "S" section following STORY OF ALBERT SCHWEITZER; THE STORY OF THE AMERICAN NATION will be found in the "S" section following STORY OF THAILAND.

No words have been omitted or moved out of sequence for titles in any language other than English. Alphabetizing considers each word of the title, letter by letter.

Example: In the title, LE DESERT DE L'AMOUR, all words are considered, placing it in the "L" section.

However, the searcher should look for alternative listings for any given title. One title as sent to IMRC may vary from another sent for the same book or from that familiar to the searcher. Scanning a section or sections is suggested in the event a title is not found in its exact alphabetical place.

Example: The searcher may be familiar with EL CID, need to find LE CID, and find it in the listing under CID because that was the information provided to IMRC.

In addition to the Central Catalog, the following may be of assistance in locating textbooks: (1) American Printing House Catalogs for brailled, large type, and recorded materials; (2) Library of Congress volunteer produced materials not listed in the Central Catalog; (3) Textbooks in Print, Bowker and Company for an annual subject listing of textbooks; (4) National Braille Association Braille Book Bank Catalog (braille materials only); (5) Recording for the Blind Catalog (recorded materials only).

The Staff of the IMRC was gratified at the reception given the previous editions of the Central Catalog. We sincerely hope this Fourteenth Edition will be equally as helpful.

MEDIA ABBREVIATIONS

BR - Braille

Please note that we have put in parenthesis, by the depository, the date of the transcription of recent Mathematics textbooks.
Example:

MATHEMATICS AROUND US / BOLSTER, ET AL /
SCOTT FORESMAN
1975 BR: JBU (1977)

The JBU 1977 tells you that this book should be in New Nemeth Code since the braille transcription was done in 1977.

Check the code in front of this book for source addresses.

Locate the book you need, listed alphabetically by title, and write to the source to borrow or purchase a copy. These masters are not at APH, unless so listed as the source. If a master is at APH or can be sent to APH by the owner, a thermoform copy can be made and charged either to quota account if sent through the Ex-Officio Trustee of the Printing House, or be ordered on an Accounts Receivable basis.

The Instructional Materials Reference Center Staff feels and hopes that this publication will be of great value to all educators of the visually handicapped and to the volunteer transcribers who have made these books possible.

EXAMPLE OF CODE NUMBERS

Because of various transcribers not lending or selling texts produced in braille, large type, or tape recorded form, a letter was sent to each of the transcribers on the Code Sheet asking for the below information. The number indicates service available through the transcribing group.

D-BR--If you can duplicate Braille (1)
D-LT--If you can duplicate Large Type (2)
D-T---If you can duplicate Tape
    D-C--(Cassette) (3)
    D-R--(Open Reel) (4)

If you cannot duplicate in Braille, Large Type, and Tape, will you lend your master for duplication or deposit to APH?
    YES (5)
    NO (6)

Will you duplicate for an exchange of brailon or tape?
    YES (7)
    NO (8)

Will not lend (9)
Will not duplicate (10)

Example: Birmingham Educational Foundation for the Blind will duplicate Braille, will lend their masters to APH for duplication or deposit, and will duplicate for an exchange of brailon or tape.

Dakota Microfilm Company will sell Large Type only.
